Round 1 of 11

Guide, path and bridge

Three directions, each with an original symbol drawn from the idea of the product. All use the site palette: navy and cobalt, with amber only as an accent. None use a maple leaf or anything that suggests a government site.

Boussole

SME funding guide

IDEA

A compass needle: guidance, direction, "which way". Fits the guided assessment. The French word is understood by English readers and reads as bilingual.

TAGLINE

EN: Find the support that fits your business

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Boussole

Boussole

16px 24px 32px 48px

- \+ Strong match with the product idea. Memorable and bilingual.
- – A French word as the main name may be harder to spell and say for some English users.

Waypoint

SME funding guide

IDEA

Connected points rising along a route: progress from search to a shortlist. Last point highlighted in amber as the goal.

TAGLINE

EN: Step by step to the right support

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Waypoint

Waypoint

16px 24px 32px 48px

- \+ Easy in English, simple to say, matches the step-by-step flow.
- – Common word, so check for other businesses using it. Less natural in French.

Passerelle

SME funding guide

IDEA

A footbridge: connects an SME to scattered public programs. Matches the idea already in the home page copy.

TAGLINE

EN: A bridge between your business and public support

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Passerelle

Passerelle

16px 24px 32px 48px

- \+ Clear story ("a bridge"), distinctive.
- – Hard for English speakers to pronounce and spell. Best if the brand leans French-first.

CURRENT, FOR REFERENCE

CB CanBusiness Support

Initials in a square work as a placeholder, but say nothing about the product. The name also sits close to "Canada Business", the federal government service.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Round 2 of 11

Connection ideas: graphs, threads and paths

Following the idea that the product connects points. The matching logic really is a graph: businesses and programs are the nodes, and each rule that fits is a line between them.

Constellation

SME funding guide

IDEA

Points joined by lines, like a graph or a star map. Each node is a program or a fact about your business, each line a match. Mirrors how the matching logic works.

TAGLINE

EN: Connect your business to the right support

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Constellation

Constellation

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Same spelling in English and French, and the image explains the product.

– Many businesses use this word, including a very large Canadian software company. Likely to cause confusion.

Trame

SME funding guide

IDEA

Threads crossing, as in a weave or a fabric. In French, "trame" is also the thread of a story. One amber thread stands for the match that matters.

TAGLINE

EN: Threads that join your business to support

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Trame

Trame

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Distinctive, short, natural in Quebec French.

– Unfamiliar to most English speakers, who may not know what it means.

Nodal

SME funding guide

IDEA

A central node linked to the options around it: your business at the centre, programs connected to it. Straight from graph thinking.

TAGLINE

EN: Your business at the centre of the options

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Nodal

Nodal

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Short, easy to say in both languages, and technically accurate.

– Sounds technical and a little cold for business owners. Used in other industries.

BizPath

SME funding guide

IDEA

Your own suggestion: "path" plus "business". Clear and literal, and the connected-points symbol fits it.

TAGLINE

EN: Your path to the right funding

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

BizPath

BizPath

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Instantly understandable, and nothing to explain.

– Generic, hard to protect as a brand, and sounds like many consulting firms. Less natural in French.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Round 3 of 11

Agreement ideas: handshake, accord, partnership

A literal handshake icon is a common cliche and hard to read at small sizes, so these are abstract versions of the same idea: two parties meeting or joining.

Accord

SME funding guide

IDEA

Two circles overlapping, with the shared area in amber: your business on one side, a program on the other, and the match where they meet. "Accord" means agreement in French and in English.

TAGLINE

EN: Where your business and the right support agree

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Accord

Accord

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Same word in both languages, with the meaning of agreement. The symbol shows a match at a glance.

– Very common word, also a famous car name and used by many companies.

Entente

SME funding guide

IDEA

Two arrows coming together at one point, the amber dot: an understanding being reached. In Canadian use, "entente" is the word for an agreement between parties.

TAGLINE

EN: Where business and support meet

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Entente

Entente

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Meaningful in Canada, short, and a bit more formal and trustworthy.

– Less familiar to English speakers, and the word is often used for government agreements.

Tandem

SME funding guide

IDEA

Two linked rings, like a handshake turned into a chain: two parties joined. "Tandem" suggests working side by side.

TAGLINE

EN: Working together, one step at a time

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Tandem

Tandem

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Friendly, easy to say in both languages, and the idea of working together comes through.

– Very common name for other businesses. A little less serious for a funding topic.

Pacte

SME funding guide

IDEA

A seal with a check mark: an agreement that is confirmed. "Pacte" is French for pact. Careful, it can sound heavy.

TAGLINE

EN: A clear, checked path to support

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Pacte

Pacte

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Strong sense of trust and commitment.

– A pact is a serious word, and it may promise more than the site can: the site does not guarantee any outcome.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Round 4 of 11

Finding ideas: magnifier, lantern, search, meeting

These are the most literal metaphors. They explain the product quickly, but the magnifier in particular is what many search sites already use, so a distinct name matters more here.

Loupe

SME funding guide

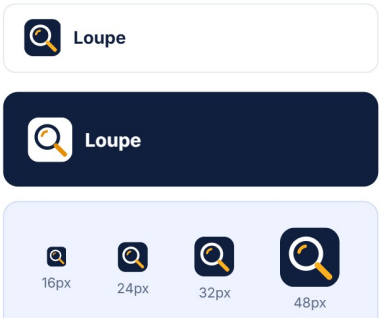
IDEA

A magnifying glass. "Loupe" is the French word for magnifier and is also used in English for a small magnifier, so it reads in both languages.

TAGLINE

EN: Look closer at the support that fits
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



- \+ Clear meaning of search and detail, and it works in English and French.
- – Used by other products and tools. A magnifying glass is also a very common icon for search.

Lantern

SME funding guide

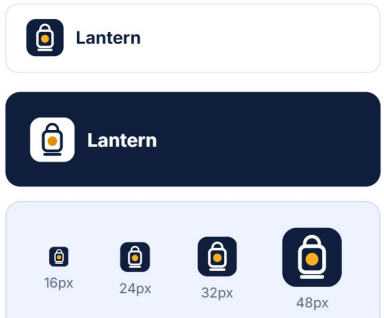
IDEA

A lantern with a warm amber light: it helps you see the way in an unfamiliar landscape. In French, "lanterne" is almost the same word.

TAGLINE

EN: Light on the options that fit you
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



- \+ Warm and reassuring, and the most distinctive picture of the set.
- – Many businesses use this name, and I believe some in lending. Check carefully.

Rendezvous

SME funding guide

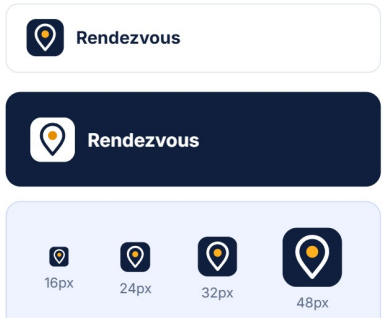
IDEA

A map pin: the place where you and the right program meet. "Rendez-vous" is a French word that English already uses for a planned meeting.

TAGLINE

EN: Where your business meets its support
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



- \+ A true bilingual word with the idea of an encounter.
- – Long, and easy to misspell. Could be shortened, for example to "Rendez".

Trouvé

SME funding guide

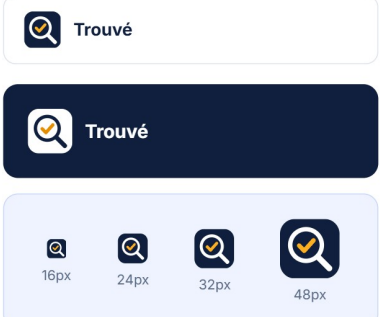
IDEA

A magnifying glass with a check mark: the thing you were looking for, found and confirmed. "Trouvé" is French for "found".

TAGLINE

EN: Found: support that fits
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



+ Says the result, not the tool: you find what you were looking for.

– The accent may be hard for English users to type. A check mark could imply certainty the site does not promise.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Round 5 of 11

Clarity ideas: untangle, simple, transparent

These name the benefit instead of the tool: the site makes a confusing subject clear. Transparency is also a real feature here, since every result explains why.

Clair

SME funding guide

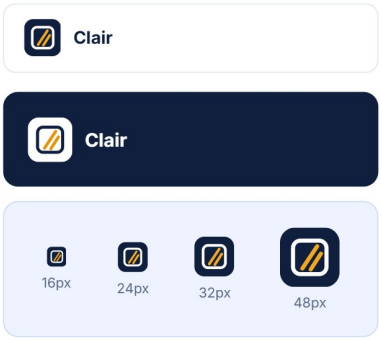
IDEA

A glass pane with a glint of light: transparent, nothing hidden. "Clair" is French for clear and bright, and is understood in English as in "clair de lune" or "clairvoyant".

TAGLINE

EN: Clear answers about funding
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



- \+ Says transparency and clarity, which matches the "we explain why" approach.
- − Not obvious to English speakers, and several unrelated businesses use the word.

Untangle

SME funding guide

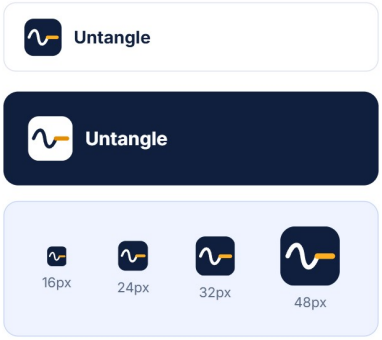
IDEA

A tangled curve that settles into a straight line: from confusion to a clear next step. This is the "untie the knot" idea.

TAGLINE

EN: Untangle the funding maze
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



- \+ Instantly communicates the benefit: it makes things simpler.
- − There is a network security company with this name. A bit negative, as it starts from "tangled". Hard in French.

Plainly

SME funding guide

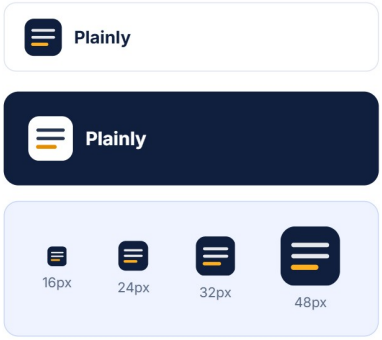
IDEA

Clean, straight lines, with the one that matters in amber. It stands for plain language: simple, direct, nothing to decode.

TAGLINE

EN: Funding, explained plainly
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



- \+ The name is also a promise about how the site talks.
- − Generic, and not natural in French, where it would need another name.

Clarté

SME funding guide

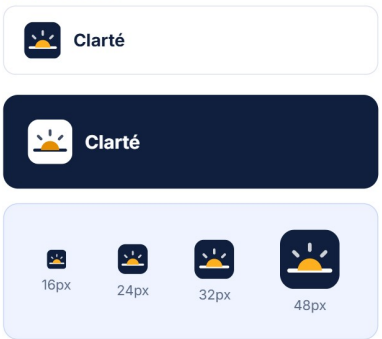
IDEA

A rising sun over a line: the moment things become clear. "Clarté" is French for clarity, and close enough to the English word to be understood.

TAGLINE

EN: Clarity for your next step
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



+ Understood in both languages, with a hopeful image.

– The word "clarity" is used by a great many products, so the name alone will not stand out.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Round 6 of 11

Growth ideas: plants and gardening

The image is nourishing and supporting growth. I avoided a leaf that looks like a maple leaf, which could suggest an official site. The tone is "helping a business grow", not "rescuing" one.

Trellis

SME funding guide

IDEA

A lattice with a shoot climbing it: a structure that supports and guides growth. It is the literal meaning of "support" in your first name. In French, "treillis".

TAGLINE

EN: A frame that helps your business grow
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Trellis

Trellis

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Support, structure and growth in one image. Works in both languages.
– Several businesses use the name, including in finance. Check carefully.

Terreau

SME funding guide

IDEA

A mound of soil with a shoot coming up: the rich ground where something can grow. "Terreau" is French for potting soil or rich earth.

TAGLINE

EN: Rich ground for your business to grow
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Terreau

Terreau

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Warm and natural in French, with a nourishing image.
– Not understood in English, so it relies on the tagline.

Pépinière

SME funding guide

IDEA

A seedling in a pot: a nursery, where young plants are cared for. In French, a "pépinière d'entreprises" is a business incubator.

TAGLINE

EN: Where small businesses are nurtured
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Pépinière

Pépinière

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ A direct link between the plant image and the business idea in French.
– Long, with accents, and hard for English speakers to say and spell.

Bloom

SME funding guide

IDEA

A flower with an amber centre: the business flowering once it has the right support.

TAGLINE

EN: Help your business bloom
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Bloom

Bloom

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Simple, positive and easy in English.

Sève

SME funding guide

IDEA

A sap drop with a leaf vein: what feeds a plant from within. Funding as nourishment.

TAGLINE

EN: What feeds your business
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Sève

Sève

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Short, elegant and meaningful in French.

- Very widely used as a brand, and not natural in French. Can feel too soft for a funding topic.

- Meaningless to English speakers, and the accent is hard to type.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Round 7 of 11

Canada without the cliche: nourish, maple seed and leaf

You asked for a leaf from Canada without the standard drawing everyone knows. The flag maple leaf is an official national symbol, so I did not copy it. These are original shapes: a three-lobed leaf, a maple seed and a veined leaf. A leaf still pushes the brand toward looking Canadian, which has a trade-off with looking official.

NourishCan

SME funding guide

IDEA

Your idea: a pun on "Can" and Canada, with the meaning of feeding growth. The symbol is a three-lobed leaf made of simple curved shapes, with the centre lobe in amber as new growth. It is original and not the flag leaf.

TAGLINE

EN: Nourishing Canadian business
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

NourishCan

NourishCan

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ The meaning is clear in English: nourish, with a nod to Canada and to "can do".
– "Can" still suggests Canada and may look official. Hard to use in French as written.

Samara

SME funding guide

IDEA

The winged seed of a maple, the "helicopter" that spins down from the tree. It is a very Canadian image that almost nobody uses: new growth starting, with an amber seed. It says maple without drawing the flag leaf.

TAGLINE

EN: A new start, carried on the wind
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Samara

Samara

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Canadian without the cliche, distinctive, and a real word that also reads as a given name.
– Samara is also a city and a common first name. Few people will know the seed meaning without the tagline.

Nourish

SME funding guide

IDEA

A pointed leaf whose veins are a small network: nodes joined by lines, with an amber central vein. It joins your plant idea and your graph idea. The outline is a plain pointed leaf, not a maple leaf.

TAGLINE

EN: Feeding growth, one connection at a time
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER

Nourish

Nourish

16px 24px 32px 48px

+ Combines two of your ideas. Clear in English and easy to say.
– A very common word, also used by wellness and food brands. It needs a descriptor.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Round 8 of 11

NourishCan: five new symbols

New ideas for the name NourishCan, none repeating earlier rounds: the watering can (the Can in the name), the can pouring on a sprout, an N monogram with a leaf, a drop with a plant, and coins with a sprout. None uses the flag maple leaf.

NourishCan

SME funding guide

IDEA

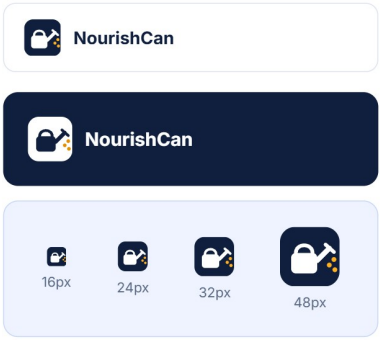
A watering can: the "Can" in your name taken literally. Amber drops fall from the spout like the funding that feeds a business. No leaf and no flag symbol, so nothing that looks official.

TAGLINE

EN: Nourishing Canadian business

FR: Nourrir la croissance des PME canadiennes

IN THE HEADER



- \+ Uses the name itself as the picture, so it is memorable and easy to explain.
- – A watering can is a gardening image, so the business and Canada sides of the name rely on the words.

NourishCan

SME funding guide

IDEA

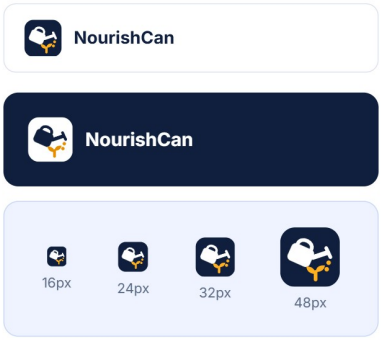
The watering can tilts and pours onto a small sprout: the action of nourishing a young business. It tells a tiny story in one picture.

TAGLINE

EN: Pouring support where it helps growth

FR: Nourrir la croissance des PME canadiennes

IN THE HEADER



- \+ Shows the whole idea: support goes in, growth comes out.
- – More detail, so it is the hardest to read at 16 pixels. Might need a simpler small version.

NourishCan

SME funding guide

IDEA

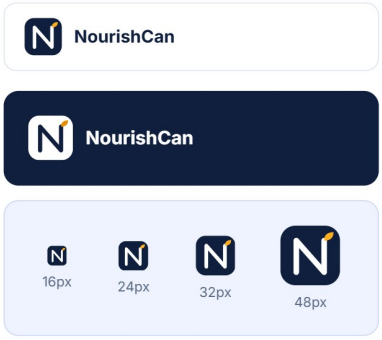
The letter N as a bold monogram, with a small amber leaf at the top: a letter that is also growing. It leans on the initial rather than on a picture.

TAGLINE

EN: Nourishing Canadian business

FR: Nourrir la croissance des PME canadiennes

IN THE HEADER



- \+ Very clean and works well tiny, as an app or browser icon.
- – A monogram says little about the product on its own, like the current "CB".

NourishCan

SME funding guide

IDEA

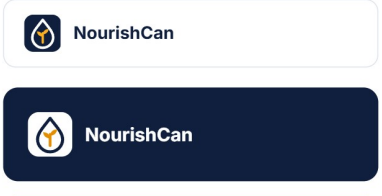
A drop with a small plant inside it: the water or sap that nourishes growth, carrying a sprout. It joins "nourish" with the plant idea.

TAGLINE

EN: What feeds your business

FR: Nourrir la croissance des PME canadiennes

IN THE HEADER



NourishCan

SME funding guide

IDEA

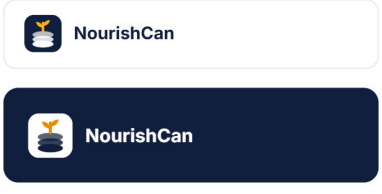
A short stack of coins with a sprout growing from the top: money that becomes growth. The most direct picture of funding for a business.

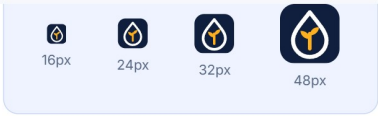
TAGLINE

EN: Funding that helps businesses grow

FR: Nourrir la croissance des PME canadiennes

IN THE HEADER





+ Reads as nourishing at once, and it is neutral for English and French.
– Water drops are a common icon, and it does not mention business or Canada.

+ The clearest link to funding and money for a small business.
– It is a familiar image in finance and savings, so it is the least original of the five.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Round 9 of 11

Maple Seed: five new symbols

Five new ideas for the name Maple Seed. The seed is the winged samara, not the flag leaf, so it stays Canadian without copying the official symbol: spinning seed, pair of wings, sprout in soil, seed trail and veined wing.

Maple Seed

SME funding guide

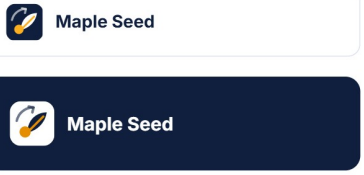
IDEA

The maple seed with a curved motion arrow: the way it spins as it falls. Movement suggests a business getting started.

TAGLINE

EN: A new start, spinning down to land
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



+ Closest to the real seed, and the arc makes it feel alive.
– Small details, so the arc can disappear at 16 pixels.

Maple Seed

SME funding guide

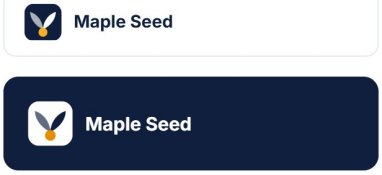
IDEA

The classic pair of maple wings joined at one amber seed, drawn as a simple V shape. It also reads as a bird or a sprout opening.

TAGLINE

EN: Two wings, one seed
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



+ Symmetric, bold and very legible when small.
– A V shape can look like a generic check mark or a bird to some people.

Maple Seed

SME funding guide

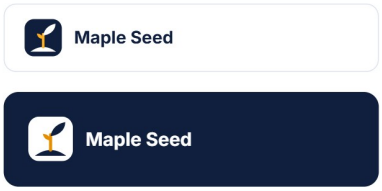
IDEA

A sprout growing from soil, with a maple wing as its top leaf. The seed has landed and started to grow, which is your nourishing idea.

TAGLINE

EN: Where a small business takes root
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



+ Joins "seed", "growth" and Canada in one picture.
– The most detailed of the five, and a sprout is common, so the wing has to carry the difference.

Maple Seed

SME funding guide

IDEA

Three seeds on a dotted path, growing larger toward an amber one with a wing. It joins your path and graph ideas: points connected on the way to a result.

TAGLINE

EN: From one seed to the next

Maple Seed

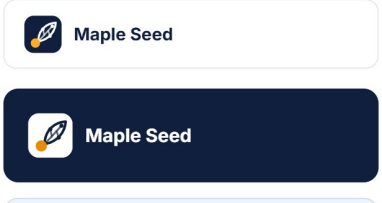
IDEA

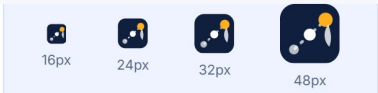
A maple wing drawn in outline, with its veins as a small network of nodes and an amber seed. It combines the seed with your graph idea.

TAGLINE

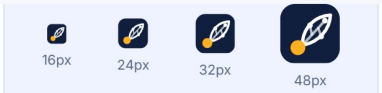
EN: Connections inside one seed
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER





+ Shows progress and connection, and is different from the usual leaf logos.
– Reads more as a chart or a route than as a seed until you look closely.



+ A more original idea than a plain seed, and it hints at matching.
– Fine lines make it the hardest to read at small sizes.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Round 10 of 11

Maple Seed: a single wing

Only the seed itself: one wing and one seed, with no branch, no plant and no soil. Five ways to draw it, from the most realistic to the most abstract.

Maple Seed

SME funding guide

IDEA

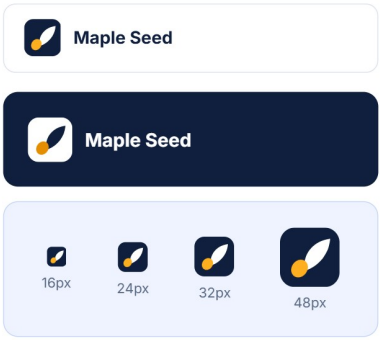
A single solid wing with a thick edge on one side and a thin tail, and an amber seed at its base. It is the maple seed alone, with no branch and no plant.

TAGLINE

EN: One wing, one seed

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



+ Simple, bold and close to the real shape.
− The most expected version, so it relies on the shape to be memorable.

Maple Seed

SME funding guide

IDEA

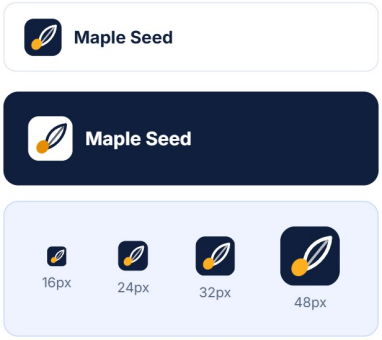
The same wing as an outline with one fine vein, and a solid amber seed. The empty wing feels light, like it is about to spin.

TAGLINE

EN: Light, open and clear

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



+ Airy and elegant, and the amber seed stands out as the one focal point.
− Thin lines can look weak at 16 pixels.

Maple Seed

SME funding guide

IDEA

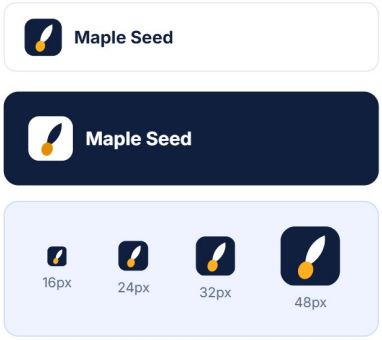
The seed seen as it falls: wing pointing up, seed hanging below, tilted a little. It is the pose people recognise from childhood.

TAGLINE

EN: Falling, about to spin

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



+ Very recognisable, and the tilt gives motion without extra marks.
− Taller than wide, so it fills the square less than the diagonal versions.

Maple Seed

SME funding guide

IDEA

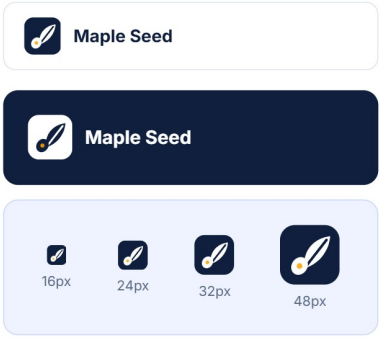
A solid wing and seed in one colour, a single vein cut out of the wing, and a small amber dot in the seed. Almost monochrome, with a tiny accent.

TAGLINE

EN: One solid shape, one clear detail

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



Maple Seed

SME funding guide

IDEA

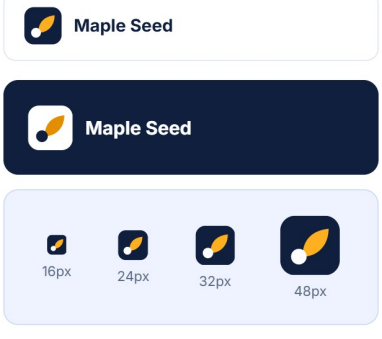
A geometric version: an amber wing and a navy round seed, only two shapes. It is the most abstract of the five.

TAGLINE

EN: Simplified to two shapes

FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



+ Easiest to read at tiny sizes and easy to

+ Strong and clean, works in one colour for print or stamps.
– The amber dot is very small, so the accent is easy to miss.

redraw.
– Very abstract. Without the name, some people may not see a maple seed.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Round 11 of 11

Maple Seed: refining the pair of wings

Four refinements of the two-wing symbol you chose. Each card shows the symbol large and at 16, 24 and 32 pixels, so you can judge how it holds up small. The changes are small on purpose: shape of the wings, tilt, balance and detail.

Maple Seed
SME funding guide

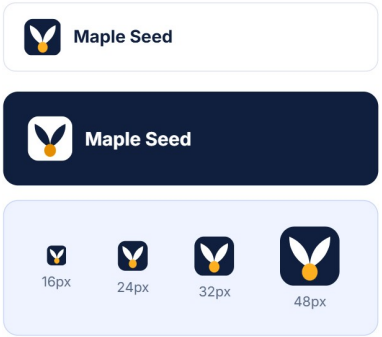
IDEA

Refinement 1: longer, more curved wings with softer tips, so it looks less like a bird or a check mark. Still perfectly symmetric.

TAGLINE

EN: Two wings, one seed
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



- + The calmest and most balanced. Easy to apply in the header and as a favicon.
- − Symmetry makes it a little static.

Maple Seed
SME funding guide

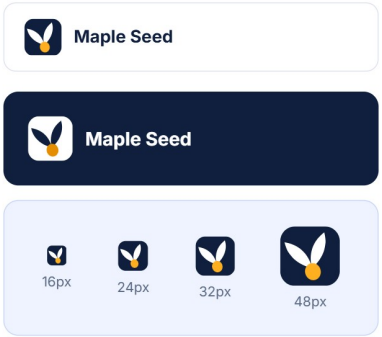
IDEA

Refinement 2: the same pair tilted about 14 degrees, as if it were already turning in the air. Same shapes, more motion.

TAGLINE

EN: Spinning as it falls
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



- + Adds movement at no cost, and the tilt separates it from a check mark.
- − A tilted icon looks slightly off balance next to straight text.

Maple Seed
SME funding guide

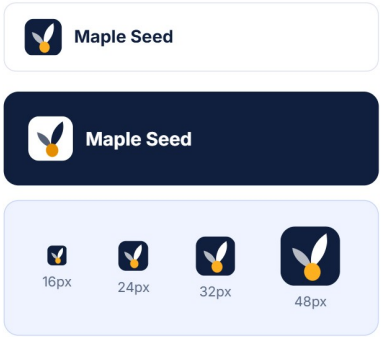
IDEA

Refinement 3: one wing smaller and lighter than the other, with a slight tilt and a larger seed. Real seed pairs are never identical.

TAGLINE

EN: Not quite alike, like in nature
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



- + The most natural and the most distinctive of the four.
- − The smaller wing may disappear at 16 pixels, so the pair reads as one wing.

Maple Seed
SME funding guide

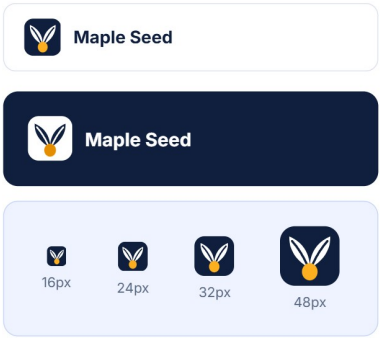
IDEA

Refinement 4: the symmetric pair with a fine vein cut into each wing. The veins hint at the leaf structure and at connections.

TAGLINE

EN: Two wings, one seed
FR: Guide de financement pour PME

IN THE HEADER



+ More character and detail at large sizes, like the footer or a cover.
− The veins vanish below 24 pixels, where it looks the same as refinement 1.

These names are ideas, not checked for availability. Before adopting one, search for other businesses using it, check that a domain is free, and look it up in the Canadian trademarks database. Once you choose, the name changes everywhere in the prototype in one pass.

Independent learning project

About the project

Maple Seed Funding Guide is a personal, non-commercial project built to learn by doing: a single place where Canadian small and medium-sized businesses can discover government and other funding programs.

The problem

Information about grants, loans and tax credits is scattered across the portals of many federal and provincial agencies, which makes it hard for an SME to find what is available for its profile.

The goal

Build and test a navigable prototype of a platform that brings programs together and guides business owners from search to a personal shortlist they can export as a report.

Who it is for

Owners and managers of Canadian SMEs, including newcomers and early-stage businesses, who need to understand which programs make sense for their sector, size and province.

MVP scope

- Search by filters
  A directory with filters for who offers the support, type of support, sector, province, business size and more.
- Find My Support
  A few guided questions that explain which programs match, and why, with a checklist of what to prepare.
- Program details
  A page with amounts, eligibility and a link to the official site, where applications are made.
- Account and personal list
  Sign-up with consent, owner profile, saved programs, PDF report, and one-click data deletion.

MAPLE SEED FUNDING GUIDE

Brand and logo record

Why the site is called Maple Seed Funding Guide, where the symbol comes from, why we chose it over many others, and how to use it. Written so the reasoning is not lost and anyone can apply the logo the same way.

THE SYMBOL

A pair of maple seed wings

The winged seed of a maple tree, the one children call a helicopter. Two wings join at a single seed, shown here with white wings and an amber seed on the navy brand tile.

Chosen from Round 11, refinement 1 of 4. It started as Round 9, option 2.

Name

Full name (English)

Maple Seed Funding Guide. "Funding guide" says what the site is without promising money. Short form in running text: Maple Seed.

Full name (français)

Maple Seed – Guide de financement. The descriptive part is in French on the Québec pages, because the Charter of the French Language asks for it. In sentences: Maple Seed.

What it means

"Maple" says Canadian. "Seed" says small beginnings that can grow: a young business, a first application. Together they describe the people the site is for.

The name was tried against many others, from "CanBusiness Support" to NourishCan, Samara and Maple Seed Project. We avoided "Can" and "Canada" in the name because they can make a private site look like a government service, and we avoided "Fund" because it suggests the site gives or manages money.

Origin of the symbol

The real thing

A maple seed is a samara: a seed with a flat wing. In many maples they grow in pairs joined at the seed. When they fall they spin like a helicopter, which slows the fall and carries the seed away from the tree.

Why not the maple leaf

The flag maple leaf is an official national symbol and the most common Canadian image. Using it would look official and cliché. The seed says maple and Canada without copying it.

Where the idea came from

From the brief: something that stands for support helping a small business grow, with a nod to Canada. The "nourish" idea led to plants, and the plants led to the seed itself.

Why this one

Two sides, one point

Two wings meet at a single seed, like businesses and programs meeting at a match. This is the idea behind the site, shown without any literal drawing of a handshake.

A start, not a finished thing

A seed is a beginning. The site is for small and medium businesses and for people starting out, and it is itself a learning project.

Canadian, without the cliché

A maple seed is recognised by anyone who has lived near a maple, and few brands we know of use it. It is original but still reads as Canadian.

Clear when small

One bold shape in two colours. It stays readable at 16 pixels, which matters for the browser tab and for the header.

Sober and trustworthy

No decoration, no gradient, and the same navy and amber as the rest of the site. It does not look like a logo of a bank or a government.

Works in one colour

The wings and seed can be one colour, so it holds up in print, stamps and PDF reports.

Logo versions

PRIMARY

White wings and amber seed on a navy tile. The default everywhere: header, footer, favicon.

ON DARK BACKGROUNDS

White tile, navy wings, a slightly deeper amber (#E58F00) so the seed does not wash out. Use on navy bands.

ONE COLOUR

Wings and seed in the same colour, for stamps, print in black and white and small PDF reports.

HEADER (ENGLISH)

Maple Seed Funding Guide

HEADER (FRANÇAIS)

Maple Seed – Guide de financement

Construction

CONSTRUCTION

Grid: 32 × 32. Tile: rounded square, corner radius 8 (a quarter of the width), navy #0F1F3D.

Wings: one curved wing shape, mirrored left and right, filled white. Right wing path: `M16 21C16.5 14 20 8.5 27 5.5C27.5 12.5 23 19 16 22.5Z`

Seed: ellipse centred at (16, 24.5), horizontal radius 4.2, vertical radius 4.6, amber #FFB020, drawn over the base of both wings.

Wing tips sit about 5 units from the tile edge on each side. Keep at least a quarter of the icon's width of clear space around it.

Using it

DO

- Use the primary version in the header, footer and browser tab.
- Keep the seed amber on navy. The amber seed is the one accent in the mark.
- Use the one-colour version when colour is not available.
- Keep the clear space and keep it at 16 pixels or larger.

DO NOT

- Do not recolour the wings in amber or blue.
- Do not tilt or stretch the mark in the header. The tilted version (Round 11, refinement 2) is only for large illustrations.
- Do not add the flag maple leaf, a crest or a national symbol next to it.
- Do not use it so that the site looks like a government service.

Footers and the About page keep saying the site is an independent, non-commercial learning project and not a Government of Canada website. The logo should never be used in a way that hides that.

How we got here

Eleven rounds of ideas are kept on the canvas for reference. Each round was a different way of thinking about the same product.

Round 1	Guide, path, bridge
Round 2	Graphs, threads, paths
Round 3	Agreement: handshake, accord
Round 4	Finding: magnifier, lantern, meeting
Round 5	Clarity: untangle, transparent
Round 6	Growth: plants, gardening
Round 7	Canada without the cliché
Round 8	NourishCan symbols
Round 9	Maple Seed: five ideas
Round 10	Maple Seed: a single wing
Round 11	Maple Seed: refining the pair

Ideas we tried and set aside: a path or bridge (too generic), connected points and graphs (looked technical), handshakes (a cliché), a magnifier or lantern (too literal), clarity and transparency (hard to draw, hard to name), the NourishCan name and its watering can and plant symbols (set aside in favour of Maple Seed, which was preferred), and a single maple wing (less balanced than the pair).

Open items

Nothing here has been verified as available. These checks are still to do before the name is used publicly. This is not legal advice.

TO CHECK

- Domain: mapleseed.ca appears to be taken. Check mapleseedguide.ca, mapleseedfunding.ca and others with a registrar or CIRA.
- Trademarks: search "Maple Seed" in the CIPO trademark database, including similar names and logos.
- Business names: search the registry in your province for companies with a similar name.
- French: confirm the French wording with a professional if the site is used in Québec.

KNOWN RISKS

- "Seed" also means early-stage investment, so some people may read the name as a venture fund. "Funding Guide" in the name reduces this.
- Maple VC is a Canadian seed-stage fund with a similar word pairing.
- "Maple" is common in software and brand names.
- At very small sizes, or without the name next to it, the pair can read as rabbit ears or a letter V. The seed and the name help; check it with a few people who have not seen it.
- The logo has not been checked against existing marks.

Projet d'apprentissage indépendant

À propos du projet

Maple Seed est un projet personnel et sans but lucratif, conçu pour apprendre en faisant : un lieu unique où les petites et moyennes entreprises canadiennes peuvent découvrir des programmes de financement gouvernementaux et autres.

Le problème

L'information sur les subventions, les prêts et les crédits d'impôt est éparpillée dans les portails de nombreux organismes fédéraux et provinciaux, ce qui complique la tâche d'une PME qui cherche ce qui est offert pour son profil.

L'objectif

Concevoir et mettre à l'essai un prototype navigable d'une plateforme qui regroupe les programmes et accompagne l'entrepreneur depuis la recherche jusqu'à une liste personnelle qu'il peut exporter sous forme de rapport.

À qui ça s'adresse

Aux propriétaires et gestionnaires de PME canadiennes, y compris les nouveaux arrivants et les entreprises en démarrage, qui doivent comprendre quels programmes conviennent à leur secteur, à leur taille et à leur province.

Portée du MVP

- Recherche par filtres
  Un répertoire avec des filtres selon l'offrant, le type d'aide, le secteur, la province, la taille de l'entreprise et plus encore.
- Trouver mon aide
  Quelques questions guidées qui expliquent quels programmes correspondent, et pourquoi, avec une liste de préparation.
- Détails du programme
  Une page avec les montants, l'admissibilité et un lien vers le site officiel, où se font les demandes.
- Compte et liste personnelle
  Inscription avec consentement, profil du propriétaire, programmes enregistrés, rapport PDF et suppression des données en un clic.
